WASHINGTON PREPARES FOR TITLE CLASSIC

KLANSMEN STAGE 'NATURALIZATION' BEFORE BIG CROWD

Water Tower Hill The Scene of Interesting Ceremonial

PARADE IS SEEN BY HUNDREDS

More Than 630 Members of Order, in Regalia, in March

Hundreds of spectators Thursday evening watched with interest the parade of more than 630 members of the Knights of the Ku Klux Klan through the principal business districts of the Twin Cities and the naturalization ceremony at the water tower hill, when a large number of candidates were initiated into the order.

A beautiful display of fireworks concluded the program shortly after ten o'clock following which the Klansmen and the assembled spectators dispersed quietly and orderly.

The naturalization program got underway at Malone park Thursday afternoon. Following arrival of the afternoon train from Birmingham bringing members of the Robert E. Lee drum corps from the Magic City the corps preceded by the officer personnel of the Klan, mounted on horseback, staged a parade through the business districts.

Spectators were asked to remain away from Malone park during the hours the Klan members were marshaled in the baseball park and given directions regarding the route of march, etc.

March To Station
Before seven o'clock the Klan lines were forming. Led by the drum corps and the mounted squad, the Klansmen marched to the union station and broke ranks to await the arrival of trains which were bringing more of their membership from other Valley communities.

Hundreds of persons stood about the streets in anticipation of the parade. Automobiles darted up and down the streets by the scores, but despite the congested condition of traffic on sidewalks and in the streets, the big crowd was quiet and orderly and the traffic was handled without accident.

A call of a whistle, cutting sharply through the frosty air, called the Klansmen again to attention and the lines were quickly formed, being augmented by arrival of Klansmen by train. The head of the procession stood at the intersection of Lafayette and Bank streets, while the ranks extended back into Railroad street, a block away.

Again with the drum corps leading the procession moved down Bank street and took up a position at Bank and Walnut, where the ranks were held intact for a time, while more Klansmen arrived and became a part of the long line which moved down Bank, through Lee into Second avenue and into Sherman, where the column turned into Eighth avenue and from there entered the city park property on the west side of the water tower. More than 630 were in the line of march, while additional Klansmen were scattered over the cities on special missions, directing visitors, etc.

Speaker Lauds Klan
While the Klansmen, in full regalia, were taking up their positions for the naturalization ceremony, itself, an imperial lecturer entertained the big crowd with a recitation of the principles of the Klan. He lauded the organization, and explained, at length, what it stood for.

The blinking of the automobile lights, the red glare of torchlights and the shadowy figures of the robed Klansmen as the candidates presented an interesting scene on the big water tower hill.

The public was permitted to witness the ceremonies, but was not permitted to overhear the ritual. Applause broke out frequently at some particular striking tableaux.

During the latter part of the program, flares were lighted, illuminating the entire hillside and revealing

HARRISON FLAYS REPUBLICAN PARTY

Democratic Senator In Chicago Today Quotes Colonel Harvey

(Associated Press)

CHICAGO, Oct. 3.—Senator Pat Harrison, democrat, of Mississippi, in an address today told the Executive club that Colonel George Harvey, former ambassador to Great Britain, recently wrote an editorial in a Washington paper, headed "Coolidge or Chaos," but that if the republican presidential nominee should be elected it would mean "Coolidge and Chaos."

The election of Senator LaFollette also would be followed by chaos, he asserted.

Since the third day of August, 1923 said the senator, "our government has foundered in a whirlpool of cross current and diverse politics because of a lack of courage and leadership, the president has been defied by the leaders of his own party in congress in practically every instance. Whenever he awoke from his sleeping silence and made a suggestion to congress for action he was defied."

"Whenever the congress passed what, in its judgment was fair and just and wise legislation, it met with a paper veto of the president. There has been a lack of co-operation between the republican nominee and his party that has no counter-part in the history of our government and because of the confusion that has inevitably ensued from such a situation, business of every kind has halted unemployment has increased and industrial development has been arrested."

"There is not a person in this country, but who knows that during the last 14 months we have had 'Coolidge and Chaos'."

"If Coolidge should be elected," he went on, "it is impossible to believe that we can or will have a majority in the senate or in the house in accord with his views, or who accept his policy."

All Grain Prices Hit High Levels

(Associated Press)

CHICAGO, Oct. 3.—With new foreign buying on a big scale, plainly evident, all grain scored fresh advances in price today the market making many new top records for the season.

World supply figures were said to show about 54,000,000 bushels less wheat available than a month ago. Rye and oats were conspicuous for the liveliest jump in price, but all deliveries of wheat, as well as of rye, together with May oats, smashed over the season's previous high levels.

DAVIS AND AL SMITH, ON SAME PLATFORM PLEDGE FRIENDSHIP

Candidates Cheered by 13,000 People At Garden Meeting

HYLAN GIVES HIS SUPPORT TO PAIR

New York Mayor Will Work For Success Of the Ticket

(Associated Press)

NEW YORK, Oct. 3.—John W. Davis, democratic presidential nominee, and Alfred E. Smith candidate for governor speaking last night from the same platform in Madison Square garden where more than two months ago they were rivals for their party's nomination, pledged mutual support while 13,000 people cheered their arraignment of the republican party.

Mayor Hylan who spoke just before the two major candidates, gave his approval to their candidacies and pledged his support to the democratic ticket.

A whimsical humorous note pervaded Mr. Davis' speech, which brought cheers and applause from the audience, while Governor Smith cited his own record as proof of his fitness for re-election.

"Alibis" was the keynote of the address of Mr. Davis, and Governor Smith stressed the importance of universal exercise of the voting privilege as a panacea for governmental problems.

NEW YORK, Oct. 3.—John W. Davis, democratic presidential nominee, speaking in historic Madison Square Garden, where he was nominated last summer, last night was given a rousing demonstration when he promised to take off "his coat, vest, tie and whatever else was serviceable to help elect 'Al Smith as governor of New York state." Mr. Davis made the statement after thanking Governor Smith for the promise the latter made at the national convention that he would take of his coat and vest and work for the election of the nominee.

Mr. Davis and the governor entering the hall together were greeted by flags waved by the crowds. It was the opening gun of the democratic campaign in this city.

"Men make records in this world sometimes by speed, sometimes by delay," Mr. Davis said in his address, "but I can claim the proud distinction that it took longer to nominate me than any man ever named for the presidency. As I think of that convention scene, my friends, I cannot help thinking of some of its closing moments, when a great man and a great democrat, the favorite son of the great state of New York—like a great gentleman and a great sportsman stood on this platform and pledged his alliance to the nominee of that convention and promised to take off both his coat and vest in his behalf."

Mr. Davis said he brought a message of "Democratic unity and harmony of Democratic purpose, that stretches from New York to the

SPECIAL COURSES GIVEN TEACHERS

Florence Normal Sends Instructor Here To Conduct Classes

The Twin-Cities have become popular on account of their central location in North Alabama and other reasons as the residence of numbers of public workers who serve many public concerns throughout the country.

Just now one of the leading educational institutions of the state—the University at Tuscaloosa—has placed its university extension leader, Dr. Thomas A. Meadows here, for the purpose of giving special courses to teachers and others, here and in all parts of the Tennessee Valley.

Dr. Meadows is now living here with his family and soon expects to make public announcement of his work as university extension director; it was stated by a local educator.

Not only will the university have extension work done here, but the State Normal College at Florence, one of the largest institutions for teachers in the south, will have special courses offered to teachers during the next eight weeks.

The director for extension service for the Florence Normal, is Miss Cora F. Bratton.

Miss Bratton is the professor of the school of teaching methods, at the normal.

She will be here tomorrow, to meet a large class of Albany and Decatur teachers and other teachers from all parts of Morgan county who may wish to take the studies offered by Miss Bratton.

Although the work of Miss Bratton and of Dr. Meadows, primarily is for teachers who desire extended study all will have their applications considered, stated Superintendent R. W. Cowart.

Dr. Meadows holds a number of college degrees including that of Doctor of Philosophy from one of America's leading universities. It was his recognized ability and interest in education that caused the University of Alabama to commission him for its extension service in North Alabama. He will offer courses that will lead to the granting of the A. B. degree, by the university and from other institutions of higher education. Miss Bratton will open her school of methods at the Decatur High School building Saturday morning.

Bank To Install Private Exchange

The first private telephone exchange probably in North Alabama soon will be installed by the Tennessee Valley Bank here, J. B. Cassels, district manager for the Southern Bell Telephone company announced today. Contracts have been signed for the exchange, which will have its own operator, who will make the connections for various departments of the bank on the institution's own switchboard.

Decatur Council In Regular Meet

The final regular meeting of the present Decatur city council was held last night, when the usual monthly bills were allowed. The largest of the bills was one for $57,359, paying costs for the month of September.

H. L. Todd, of Birmingham, was employed by the council to audit the books of the city to October 1. The recently elected councilmen of the city are expected to meet and organize Monday night, October 6.

VERDICT OF GUILTY IN 'TARRING' CASE

Leatherman Convicted In Connection With Attack On Girl

(Associated Press)

FREDERICK, Md., Oct. 3.—A verdict of guilty was returned by the jury in the case of Harry Leatherman indicted for tarring and feathering Dorothy Grandon of Martinsburg, West Virginia, at Meyersville, near here last July.

Leatherman was convicted for aiding and abetting the attack on the Grandon girl. Leatherman was admitted to bail pending sentence.

Leatherman, who is one of 119 men indicted in the case, has been on trial in circuit court here since last May. State Attorney Stone said the next tar and feather case would be called for trial next Wednesday.

Witnesses for the state testified that Leatherman was the organizer and leader of the mob, although Mrs. Mary Shank had pleaded guilty to the actual tarring and is now awaiting sentence.

The defense endeavored to show that Leatherman was merely an on-looker, took no part in the affair and did not coerce Mrs. Shank by threats to tar the girl. Mrs. Shank charged that her husband and the girl were too intimate, and this was the cause of the episode.

REPUBLICANS PLAN TO FIRE AT BRYAN

Coalition Between the Progressives And Democrats Seen

(Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 3.—Republican fire will be directed against Charles W. Bryan, Democratic nominee for vice president, as well as John W. Davis, and Senator LaFollette, the Democratic and independent presidential candidates, it was indicated here today on the basis of a statement by William M. Butler, chairman of the Republican national committee.

Mr. Butler, who discussed progress of the campaign and plans for the future with President Coolidge yesterday declared last night he had seen evidences of a coalition, particularly in the west, between the Democratic and LaFollette forces.

In view of this, Mr. Butler declared, he considered Charles W. Bryan, a presidential candidate "since the obvious purpose of the coalition is to throw the election into the house, where a decision does not seem possible and consequently force the election of a president by the senate from above the vice presidential candidates."

THREE NEGROES ARE HANGED AT NOON

Blacks Pay With Lives For the Murder Of Sheriff

(Associated Press)

JONESBORO, La., Oct. 3.—Freeman Coleman, Booker Boone and Willie Washington, negro moonshiners, were hanged here today for the murder on August 22 of Sheriff Rents of Jackson parish.

They were executed simultaneously on the same scaffold.

Deputy Sheriff Elmer Templeton sprung the trap at 12:17 p. m. and the negroes were pronounced dead eight minutes later. Coleman's neck was broken and Boone and Washington strangled to death.

Mrs. E. M. Rents, widow of the late official was admitted to the enclosure where the scaffold was being erected a few minutes before the time fixed for the execution and saw the negroes die.

Boy's Collar Bone Broken In Wreck

An X-ray picture has been made of Virgil Strickland's collar bone where it was broken in a recent automobile accident in South Albany.

There is some probability that an operation will be necessary, it was stated.

While driving the car of his father, John Strickland, the son collided with a delivery wagon of the H. G. Hill grocery company driven by Henry Sibert and both vehicles were greatly damaged.

It was stated that in addition to a regular break, the collar bone sustained other injuries.

Daily To Have Sports Results

Saturday marks the beginning of the first big lap in the football season and the crowning era of the baseball world.

Football machines will have their first big tests of the season Saturday, while Washington and the Giants will meet in the first grapple to determine a world's diamond championship.

The Daily's bulletin board, which proved so popular last fall, will again be in use. Scores will be posted by innings for the baseball fans and the results of all of the major football battles will be posted about six o'clock Saturday afternoon.

The world's series scores will be posted daily (except Sunday) during the series, while the football results will be given each Saturday afternoon during the fall.

BRIBERY SCANDAL 'LOST IN SHUFFLE' OF PREPARATIONS

Prospects Of Further Disclosures Vanish During Morning

LANDIS VIEW IS STILL UNALTERED

Many Fans Still are Not Satisfied With the Landis Probe

(Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 3.—While an undercurrent of suspense remained, the cloak of bribery scandal hanging over the New York Giants, seemed to have been brushed aside, temporarily, at least today in the bustle of preparations for the opening of the world's series tomorrow.

Prospects of further fireworks in connection with the disclosures that have brought about banishment of Jimmy O'Connell, outfielder, and Voco Dolan, coach of the Giants, was minimized by early developments.

Commissioner Landis declared nothing had occurred overnight that would alter his view.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 3.—Baseball fandom, shocked and mystified by the disclosures of bribery, involving the New York Giants, on the eve of their world championship struggle with the Washington Senators awaited today's developments that would determine whether the O'Connell attempt to induce Heinie Sand, Philadelphia third baseman, to throw the pennant deciding game for $500 was a "closed incident" or whether it had ramifications that might rock the game's whole structure.

After 24 hours of sensational charges and counter-charges the situation apparently remained as it stood when Commissioner Landis, in New York, Wednesday night, ruled O'Connell and Dolan out of the game.

Although Commissioner Landis did not specifically refer to the assertion of Ban Johnson, president of the American league, and Barney Dreyfuss, president of the Pittsburgh Nationals, that the revelations were sufficient to warrant calling off the world's series, Commissioner Landis left no doubt that his answer to them was his statement.

"It seems to be time for those not clothed with responsibility to keep their shirts on."

The big question that remains unsolved to the satisfaction of close observers and apparently to baseball fandom at large, was the motivating influence in the alleged action of Dolan and O'Connell.

Coming on top of an almost unprecedented wave of enthusiasm with the advance into the diamond championship of Washington's first pennant winner, the sudden injection of scandal has stirred fandom's temperature to fever heat and it appeared that only the most sweeping sort of action would satisfy public opinion.

TEN FOREST FIRES ARE BURNING TODAY

Eleventh Blaze Burns Away 5,000 Acres In California

(Associated Press)

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 3.—National forests in California were being burned away today at ten points by devastating forest fires which raged out of control, last night and were approaching a day of fine weather.

An eleventh fire burned over 5,000 acres near the Sequoia country club grounds in Alameda county last night before it was brought under control by students of the University of California and members of the Oakland fire department.

Fort Worth Wins the Dixie Title

MEMPHIS, Oct. 3.—The Fort Worth Panthers, five time winners of the Texas League pennant, today stood unbeaten base.

The Panthers won the title by defeating the Memphis Chickasaws, Southern Association champions, 3 to 2 yesterday in the deciding game of the 1924 post-season Dixie series for southern baseball supremacy—the fourth time within five years that the Texas league standard bearers, under the leadership of Jake Atz, veteran Panther pilot, have bested Southern Association challengers in the diamond classic.

Thursday's game, and with it the title, was won in the eighth inning when Joe Bischoff, catcher, following the lead of two of his team-mates, Edington and Taverner, toppled the ball over shortstop for a single which brought Edington across the plate and decided the issue after a pitching duel between Joe Pate and Cy Warmoth, left-handed hurling aces of the two clubs.

Pate held the hard hitting Chickasaws to five hits, allowing never more than one in an inning, while Warmoth allowed only six and added to his fame by striking out nine Panthers, but three of the six hits came in one inning, which Fort Worth coined into the deciding tally.

Near the conclusion of the program star rockets were sent up, which were visible for long distances. As the rockets burst in mid-air showers of vari-colored stars were released. Just before the crowd dispersed, the pyrotechnic display was concluded with a series of outlines, set off on the ground, and representing the fiery cross, 100 per cent, K. K. Mr. Arvidson stated that the boys would be expected to report at the Association by 8 o'clock Saturday morning, with a lunch each. He stated that a baseball outfit had been provided. The hike will consume most of the day, it was stated.

COMMANDER OF ZR-3 GREW UP IN INDIANA

FRIEDRICHSHAFEN.—As a boy in Indiana and afterward in Oklahoma, where his father was the first governor, Captain George W. Steele, who is to command the ZR-3 after delivery to the United States navy, at Lakehurst, New Jersey, had a long time ago to become a locomotive engineer.

The railroad yards, the round houses and the shops were always a source of much interest to the boy, and he used to regard some of the old engineers who ran in and out of Guthrie, before Oklahoma City became the capital, as just about the greatest men in the world. Young Steele went to Oklahoma when he was 11 years old, and while he thought much of railroading, he never gave any thought to the sea or to aeronautics, even the balloonists with the circuses of those days not appealing to him particularly.

In later years the elder Steele was a representative in congress from Indiana, and in this way the son gained an appointment to Annapolis where his career as a sailor began. "But even to this day a fine, big locomotive has a strange fascination for me," said Capt. Steele just before starting the trans-Atlantic flight, "and I do believe I could run one if I could find an engineer who would trust me."

Money of No Value

"Life had no pleasures for me. Although I had plenty of money it was of no value, as my stomach almost constantly distressed me. I lost faith in all doctors and medicine. Talking with my druggist about my case he advised me to try Mayr's Wonderful Remedy. I am now enjoying life again." It is a simple harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. Notorious Resort Is Converted Into Methodist Church

DURANGO.—The old Greek saying "out of bad wood good smoke sometimes comes" was applied here when a 'community tabernacle' and its parsonage were built out of timbers and materials taken from a once notorious gambling resort and dance hall and from an erstwhile brewery.

The tabernacle, built by the Free Methodist church, was recently dedicated. Its altar rail was made out of part of the bar against which the lumberjacks, miners, cowpunchers, Mexicans and gamblers of 40 years ago used to lean. The bar's foot rail was converted into the hand rail of the steps leading into the church. A Bible now rests on the polished walnut where the liquor of the early days was placed, for the top of the bar has become the pulpit. The altar was constructed from other parts of the bar.

The church rests on a foundation of stone, heavy timbers and iron beams taken from both the dance hall and the brewery. The window sills and ledges were made from the heavy oak bottoms of huge beer vats.

The building occupies the site of the former brewery. It is situated at the foot of a bluff and is overlooked by the parsonage of the presiding elder of the district. The parsonage once was the office of the brewery and has been made into a modern cottage. It is planned to terrace the bluff and to build winding stairs from the elders' home to the house of worship, using as a hand rail a coil formerly utilized in making beer.

The two steps that lead to the entrance of the tabernacle were formed of timbers taken from the dance hall. One carries a bullet fired from a .45" evidence of one of the man shooting scrapes that enlivened the old resort. The heavy timbers comprising the supporting columns an other roof beams were taken from the dance halls. The church seats 700.

"I think," said Rev. F. F. Stewart, the presiding elder who conceived the idea, "that it was in the nature of an act of Providence that we were able to convert these places of disrepute into a house of worship."

German Aircraft Workers Turn to Making Tractors

FRIEDRICHSHAFEN, Germany.—Zeppelin workmen who built the ZR-3 and who for years have been constructing things which fly, will now be employed in making things which travel on the ground. By the terms of the treaty of Versailles the great hangars of Friedrichshafen must be destroyed.

In addition to manufacturing automobiles, bicycles and various other mechanical affairs, the Zeppelin company has already arranged to build caterpillar tractors, and this factory will take over most of the men who for more than two years have been working on the ZR-3.

"Cubaroo" will be used to equip some of the units which are to form part of Great Britain's big home defense scheme, to become operative next year.

American Residents In Palestine Served By Special Court

JERUSALEM.—Citizens of the United States living in Palestine are accorded privileges over and above those of citizens and subjects of states who are members of the League of Nations. This is true now pending American ratification of the British mandate for Palestine, but will probably cease to be the case after the United States government will have signed the convention recognizing the mandate for Americans in Palestine the same rights as fall to subjects of states who are League members but no more. The status of Americans in Palestine will then probably be the same as in Syria to the French mandate for which the United States was reported recently to have agreed.

For the present Americans here enjoy the rights of capitulations which before the dismemberment of the Turkish empire, all great powers insisted on maintaining for their citizens. America has not renounced its capitulatory rights in Palestine and the American consul is the only one holding court and trying cases between American residents.

The position of the American consular court in Jerusalem is a little vague because it runs parallel with the British system of justice now in force. The British government, however, is not known to have raised an objection to the existence of the consular court. The Palestine authorities have even gone out of their way to effect judgments made by the consular court. An American sentenced to prison by the consular court may be locked up in a Palestine jail.

Unknown to Oscar S. Heizer, having received no instructions to the contrary, continues to sit in judgment over American residents who go into trouble but he is not sure how long this condition will continue.

DEEPEST POINT IN OCEAN FOUND NEAR JAPAN COAST

TOKIO.—The lowest known point of the earth's crust, the deepest known trench in the ocean, lies about 13 miles southeast of Tokio. This discovery, made recently by the Japanese naval survey ship Mantsu has been announced by the navy authorities. The new 'deep' measures 32,633 feet or more than six miles. It exceeds by 548 feet the hitherto greatest known ocean depth, the famous Marianne trench in which the United States naval ship Nero in 1899 found 32,088 feet off the east coast of the island of Mindanao in the Philippine.

The Mantsu's "deep" apparently lies at the bottom of a precipitous declivity descending sharply about 10 miles from the southeastern coast of the main island of Japan. To the Japanese the first interest in the discovery lies in the seismic possibilities of this trench so near their coast. The sharpness with which the ocean plunges a few miles from Japan is held by scientists to be a contributory factor to the severe earthquakes which visit this part of the country.

If Washington wins it was another case of David defeating Goliath.

Many things have names that do not fit—for instance that excellent judgment called common sense, is not common at all, but very rare.

If horses could talk, what they would say about the speeding auto drivers would not be very complimentary.

If Mr. Average Citizen had a keen mind in proportion to the sharpness of his tongue, his tongue would lose its sharpness.

Some times those who say so often they will not do wrong if they know it, seem to protest too much.

Those who have a great desire to see themselves as others see them, and succeed in doing so, should be equipped with shock absorbers.

It is solid comfort to live in the "solid south" during the presidential year, to all who love peace and quiet.

The Roosevelt nomination is regarded by enemies of the Roosevelt family as an effort to shelve T. R.

Modern bootleg liquor is said to be in great demand for use in killing grass hoppers in the state of Washington.

When plans are approved for the Tennessee river wagon bridge here, will plans be ready for raising the money to build the bridge.

Two college presidents in the past affiliated with the republicans are for Davis this year. John W. will get two mighty good votes.

Those who read about the rooster that defended his family against a hawk, will find it hard to accept without mental reservations—the doctrine of non-resistance.

The underground tunnels recently discovered at Washington, will excite little interest as the people are so accustomed to under ground work in that locality.

Mud in the form of dust is said to have been used in the construction of human bodies. That may explain why throwing that commodity comes so natural.

Ambitious people of earth, are delighted that scientists have announced that the wide canals on Mars are not work of men. Very good. It would never do for the Martians to get ahead of our people.

YOUNG ROOSEVELT IN FOOT STEPS OF HIS FATHER, BUT GOING SLOW

In securing the Republican nomination for Governor of New York, Theodore Roosevelt II, outwardly is following closely in the foot steps of his great father, the original Theodore Roosevelt.

The young man has served in the New York assembly, he has been assistant secretary of the navy and again, like his father, he has a military record, although not nearly such a great war record. In other words, while the little T. R. is following in the footsteps of his father, he has not struck the gait of the Ex-President Roosevelt.

In the first place young Roosevelt is short on personality. He made a good war record, but nothing so picturesque as the record his father made in the Spanish-American war.

Young Roosevelt is said to have made a success as a carpet manufacturer but aside from that and holding office there seems to be little to his credit. He is regarded as honest, however, which is an important qualification. It is not believed generally that young Roosevelt did anything wrong in connection with the oil scandals.

The young man may develop some fine qualities—he may even have great qualities hidden away, let us hope so, but so far he has his father's name, but not his greatness.

Few would believe young Roosevelt would have been given the preferment that has come to him if he had not had his father's prestige to bank on.

In an important sense, the Roosevelt name is a handicap to the present candidate for governor of New York. People are apt to expect too great things, and when the son fails to produce the temptation will arise to thrust him angrily aside.

AUTUMN IS A TIME OF BEAUTY AND IS A JOY FOREVER

Autumn is not expected to arouse the poets as does spring, but autumn in all its glory makes as great an appeal as any season. More especially so where flowers can be seen, either in the country or in the towns and cities. In the country the golden rod and the aster are considered first among the autumn flowers by many. In his poem on the "Death of the Flowers" Bryant speaks of the flowers of autumn, saying of the last named as showing on the hill and in wood in all their "Autumn Beauty."

In the cities and towns, there are the cosmos flowers and the dahlias. Not in this section but further north all well kept gardens have their dahlias of all shades and varieties. They range in color from white to bright red. Many of the cosmos flowers are seen in local gardens and prettier more cheerful flowers would be hard to find.

For those who can see the woods, and the leaves on the trees change from green to yellow, to red and then to brown in the autumn season it would be useless to tell them that autumn is not as beautiful if not more beautiful than any of the other seasons of the year.

Autumn is often spoken of as the "bracing season," when earth, and air seem to conspire to bring good health and good spirits. Riley says of autumn: "Oh, then's the time a fellow is feeling at his best with the kindly sun to greet him from a night of peaceful rest."

Not for city people, except for those who came from the country and cannot and will not remove the country from their systems speaks feeding the stock in autumn and of the yellow pumpkins and the fodder in the shock. And Riley says that the scenery of autumn is unsurpassed, especially in the skies of evenings and of mornings. "And the sunrise through the case of a clear and frosty morning in the early autumn days, makes a picture that no painter has the coloring to mock."

THE LEAGUE OF NATIONS ISSUE WILL NOT DOWN

President Hibben of Princeton University was one of the thirty one who signed a statement regarding the League of Nations that caused many to vote for Warren G. Harding, in the belief the league would be in friendly hands, should the republicans get into power at the time of the election of Mr. Harding. But Dr. Hibben, unlike Charles E. Hughes and some other signers of the same petition, is staying by his convictions.

He says that we must be true to the pledge and is refusing to remain in the republican ranks along with numbers of other prominent educators who favor and have always favored the league of nations.

The pledge made by those 31 prominent men in 1920 was in part as follows:

The question accordingly is not between a League and no League, but as to whether certain provisions in the proposed League agreement shall remain unchanged or shall be changed.

We have reached the conviction that the true course . . . to bring America into an effective league to preserve peace is . . . by frankly calling upon the other nations to agree to changes in the proposed agreement.

President Coolidge has said of late concerning the league: "It exists as a foreign agency. The incident (as to America joining the league,) so far as we are concerned is closed."

The republican platform is quoted as saying concerning the league:

This government has definitely refused membership in the League of Nations and to assume any obligations under the Covenant of the League. On this we stand."

It is clear that all who are for the League of Nations, cannot think of supporting Calvin Coolidge for the presidency.

BUSINESS IMPROVING DESPITE A PRESIDENTIAL ELECTION IS NEAR

Business is going ahead in healthy fashion despite all prophecy to the contrary. Indications are numerous that the business interests are determined to prosper even during a presidential election year. Bank clearings are reported as on the increase with road building and bridge building increasing. A recent issue of the Manufacturer's Record, shows where many scores of thousands of dollars are being put into great enterprises.

The following is taken from an optimistic article in the Record:

A wide variety of new enterprises are included in the list of contracts let and proposed buildings announced for the week. Among these are: Award of contracts for the $1,000,000 city auditorium at San Antonio, Tex.; plans announced for a $500,000, professional building to be erected in Washington, D. C.; the Hess Steel Company's old plant at Baltimore has been taken over by the Carbon Steel company, which will begin producing reinforcing steel bars, etc.; a $250,000 school planned for Staunton, Va.; work will begin shortly on a $750,000 club building at Miami, Fla.; contract has been let for a $250,000 science building at Springfield, Mo.; a big sulphuric-acid plant is to be erected by Chicago interests at Jacksonville, Fla.; final arrangements have been made for the erection of a $600,000 hotel at Florence, Ala.; a $300,000 textile mill will be erected at Winston-Salem, N. C.; and the Stamford (Texas) Chamber of Commerce has plans for building a $500,000 textile mill.

Road and street construction, the building of bridges and viaducts and similar work is going forward in volume. Kentucky will award contracts on Oct. 29 for 156 miles of roads and nine bridges. Mitchell county, North Carolina, will award contracts next month for 40 miles of highways. Jefferson county, Texas, is considering voting $1,000,000 bonds for road improvements. Mississippi will award contracts for thirty-six miles of roads within a few weeks.

As things appear now, the people will not be turned aside from legitimate business for any reason. It is quite probable that election day will find the nation quite as prosperous, as if there had been no campaign crys to the effect that the country is going to the dogs.

Rocky Mountains and beyond."

"The Democracy of this country," he declared, "knows it can win this battle this year if it has—and I am sure it has—the will to win it."

Referring to the nomination of Theodore Roosevelt, Republican candidate for governor, Mr. Davis said: "I propose to leave him to be dealt with by Governor Smith and I have the most confident assurance that that job will be fully and thoroughly done."

"I should like to make something of a text of these words: 'The Democracy in this state,' said the distinguished son of a distinguished sire, 'is of the same character as the national Democracy. They will promise anything to please anyone. The Democratic party promises, the Republican party performs.'"

"As I read that I said to myself, 'In the name of the prophets, there is need here for a history class.'"

"How many remember the glowing and brilliant promises that signalized the year in the campaign of 1920? Who was there in that year of grace who wanted a promise of anything that couldn't procure it?"

"It is not surprising that some of those promises, at least, the Republican party did not perform. But one promise they made was performed in letter and in spirit. They promised to give this country an administration of law in congress and in the executive chamber entirely different from the administration of Woodrow Wilson. That promise the American people know has been kept."

Attacks Mellon

John W. Davis in beginning his final drive for the presidency, made a direct attack here yesterday on Andrew W. Mellon Secretary of the treasury and his defense of the Aluminum Company of America.

Addressing a mass meeting of several thousand people from Frederick and nearby cities, the democratic standard bearer said that to justify the unwarranted increase by his party, friends and associates of tariffs on aluminum and aluminum manufacturers, Mr. Mellon had quoted a letter from Bernard M. Baruch commending the patriotic services of Mr. Mellon and his company during the war.

"I had not supposed," he said, "that patriotism during the war had any relation to personal favors when the war was closed. Indeed, Mr. Mellon was foremost among those who denied that even military service gave veterans any claim to adjusted compensation."

Mr. Davis presented figures to bear out his contention that the aluminum company of America is supreme in its field and it did not need the protection given under the Fordney-McCumber tariff act. He added that "no explanation has ever been given, none can be given for the great increase in duties on aluminum and its products."

The democratic nominee also attacked Mr. Mellon in connection with what he characterized as the wholly "varying," and "irreconcilable estimate" made by the treasury of probable surpluses and deficits at the time congress was considering the soldiers' bonus and Mellon tax plans.

"No explanation of the conflict has yet appeared," he said. "The result was a loss of public confidence in the information given. If Mr. Mellon wishes to regain the confidence of the country he should be more cautious in defending legislative favors enjoyed by his aluminum company. He should not claim that a company which enjoys an absolute monopoly of production in Canada and the United States and makes a profit of more than ten million dollars a year on an eighteen million-dollar capital stands in need of artificial aid." Mr. Davis returned to Baltimore at 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon.

Albany Council To Hold Last Meeting

The last one of the Albany city council meetings of the present government of the city will be held this evening at the city hall.

The first one of the meetings of the recently elected city council will meet Tuesday evening of next week. It was stated by members of the newly elected city government, that informal meetings have been held, when plans for the conduct of the city's affairs were discussed, and consideration given as to the personnel of the police force, which is to serve under Chief J. N. Hendrix, and other city employees. No information was given out as to the results of the informal conferences.

It is expected that this evening's session of the old council will be an important one, as all the final details of the council will be taken up and disposed of.

NEW RUM RUNNER TAKEN AT NEW YORKLatest Type Of Craft Has Two-Motors In Steel Turrets

(Associated Press)

NEW YORK, Oct. 3.—A new type of rum runner—a craft carrying two powerful motors encased in steel turrets to deflect the bullet was captured in New York harbor today, with her crew of five men, and a cargo of 300 cases of whiskey.

For five miles police churned the water in the wake of the fugitive craft, which set a 23-knot an hour pace, capturing it just before it was about to make the open sea.

Japan Is Not Yet Entirely Satisfied

(Associated Press)

TOKIO, Oct. 3.—Adoption of the protocol of compulsory arbitration and security by the league of nations assembly, now in session at Geneva, does not conclude the question as far as Japan is concerned.

Although Japan is gratified to learn of the acceptance by the league of Baron Adachi's views, the government reserved a final decision on ratification until a thorough study has been made on the subject, it was stated in the highest official quarters today.

There was reason to believe today that Japanese interests in China not the immigration question, would prove the greatest factor in influencing the government's decision on the protocol.

Memorial Planned For Late Pop Geers

COLUMBIA, Tenn., Oct. 3.—The erection of a magnificent memorial to Edward F. (Pop) Geers at Rose Hill cemetery, where the Grand Old Man of the trotting turf was recently buried, has been suggested to the horsemen of the Grand Circuit. The matter is to be taken up at the Lexington meeting, to be held shortly and then it is believed it will take concrete form.

Writing in The Horse Review, Monroe, one of the most widely known writers of the horse world, says in part concerning the proposed memorial: "Following the session of the managers and horsemen, T. W. Murphy suggested that the Grand circuit horsemen form an organization to collect funds for a memorial to Mr. Geers. The matter was discussed and it was finally decided to wait until the Lexington meeting before attempting to work out the details of the plan. The Lexington meeting attracts horsemen from all over the country and it was the consensus of opinion that any movement towards raising a fund should be started when more owners and drivers were present to take part in the promotion.

Bobby Jones Wins Golf Championship.

Fulfilling the ambition of his lifetime, Robert Tyre ("Bobby") Jones, Atlanta, Ga., youth, won the American amateur golf championship from the redoubtable George Von Elm, the California sensation, by 3 up and 3 to play, on the Merion golf course, at Ardmore, Pa. Jones, regarded as the greatest medalist in the world, has already won the open championship, but always lost out in the amateur. In the entire week's play his combined card showed only two more strokes than par.

"It is the desire of the horsemen connected with the Grand circuit to do something in a big way and it is hoped that the plans can be centralized and made nation-wide in scope. There are several other bodies now working along the same lines and it goes without saying that if they can be brought under one head, the work can be carried on in a more systematic manner."

"Personally, I think that the state of Tennessee should be solicited to vote funds for the monument, and whatever sum the legislature provides can be added to that collected from other sources."

John Trotwood Moore, now a resident of . . . and a very dear friend of Mr. Geers, will, without question, present the question to the Tennessee legislators and they should see to it that the man who honored their state and gave to it a great deal of valuable publicity, should be awarded this well earned tribute."

TROUSSEAU TEA

Miss Marie McGlawn's trousseau
tea was an event of the social life of the Twin Cities yesterday when about seventy-five guests called during the afternoon. They were greeted at the door by Mrs. Frank Lide, and were presented to Miss McGlawn and her mother.

Miss Helen Russell then ushered
the guests into the living room where
Mrs. Dyke Echols, and Mrs. Wm. E.
Crawford displayed household linens,
most of them being the hand-work of the bride; in this room her hats and gowns were also on display. The guests then passed to the library
where lingerie, shoes, hose and neg-ligees were shown by Mrs. W. R.
Smith and Mrs. Troup. They were then shown by Miss Annie B. Malone
into the dining room, which was decorated in bridal tones of green and white.

Mrs. A. J. Harris and Mrs. Weakley Cunningham poured tea from a beautifully appointed tea table. Pale green ribbons were draped from the chandelier and fastened to the table with southern smilax. Under the shadow of a silver basket, laden with huge white crysanthemums, stood a miniature bride and groom.

Ten, sandwiches, cake and mints were served by Mrs. Leldon Griffin, of Cullman; Mrs. Earl Kreis, of Montgomery; Mrs. W. M. Callahan, and
Mrs. L. J. Ramage.

Miss McGlawn, the bride-elect, was gowned in green georgette and gold
lace with corsage of butterfly roses.

Most of the bride wore black lace. Mrs. Lide was dressed in black sequin and satin, Miss Russell wore rose metal cloth, Mrs. Echols black satin with cream lace; Mrs. Crawford,
white flat crepe beaded in silver;
Mrs. W. R. Smith, gray georgette
with cut steel beads; Mrs. Troup,
black cut velvet; Miss Malone, green
and orchid chiffon with cream lace;
Mrs. A. J. Harris, black satin; Mrs.
Weakley Cunningham, white canton
crepe; Mrs. Griffin, powder blue chif-fon; Mrs. Kreis, blue romania crepe, with cut steel beads; Mrs. Callahan,
and Mrs. Ramage, black satin.

THURSDAY CLUB

Mrs. Harry Carpenter was hostess
at the first fall meeting of the Thursday Club this week at her home.

Only club members were present
and among these Mrs. C. C. Cox was the lucky contestant at bridge, the club game, and she was awarded the prize.

Lovely refreshments were enjoyed
at the close of the game.

THURSDAY BRIDGE CLUB

The Thursday Bridge Club was delightfully entertained by Mrs. E. S.
Howard on Johnston street on Thursday afternoon. Pretty blooming flowers added to the attractiveness of the home.

Mrs. Lark substituted for an absent member and at the game Mrs. J.
W. Boggess made highest score.

Late in the afternoon a salad course
was served.

CANAL STREET ROOK CLUB

There will be no meeting of the Canal Street Rook Club this week.

Mrs. Raley of Oklahoma will arrive
soon to join Mr. Raley who has accepted a position with the Decatur Cornice and Roofing Co., and they will make their home here.

AUXILIARY RALLY DAY

Attractive invitations have been received by members of the Woman's Auxiliary of the First Presbyterian church for Monday afternoon, October
Sixth. The subject for the afternoon
will be "Towards the Setting Sun"
and pictures will be used in connection with this.

There has been a cessation of activities during the summer and preparations and plans will be discussed and adopted at this meeting for the coming years work.

DAUGHTERS OF THE
AMERICAN REVOLUTION

Mrs. Leroy McEntire was a lovely hostess of Thursday having as her guests the members of the Stephens Chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution.

After the business session which was presided over by the regent, the program was taken up. Two enjoyable numbers of this were the discussion of the "Prehistoric Indian" by Miss Molly
Shepard and a delightful talk by Mrs.
John D. Wyker in which she told of some of the places of interest that she visited the past summer while abroad.

During the social hour, a salad
course was served by the hostess.

Mr. and Mrs. Warren Gardner gave a bridge party on Thursday evening
at their home on East Walnut street.
This attractive home was made unusually so with the use of bright garden flowers tastefully arranged in the living and dining rooms.

Miss Vera Smith received the girls
trophy for the highest score and a souvenir was presented Dr. Hamilton, he having made top score among the men.

A tempting salad course was served at the conclusion of a number of interesting games to the following: Miss
Maud Smith, Burton Bartee, Miss
Vera Smith, Owen Watson, Miss Ruth
Banks, Dr. Hamilton, Miss Annie Mae
Gardner, Mr. Hembree, Miss Katherine McCormack and William Davis.

Mrs. D. S. Echols will leave Monday
to spend about ten days with Mrs. F.
W. Knight in New York city.

Mrs. Jim Williamson and children
Jack and Jimmy of Harshorn, Okla., are visiting relatives on Prospect Drive.

Mrs. F. Henderson of Natchez Miss.
is the house guest of Dr. and Mrs. A.
T. Grayson.

Word was received at noon today
that Miss Marjory Pointer, who is attending Woman's College at Montgomery would possibly have to be operated on this afternoon for appendicitis. Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Pointer
left immediately on the noon train
train to be at Miss Pointer's bedside.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Robertson and children returned on Thursday night
from Evansville, Ind., where they visited for the past ten days.

Mrs. John D. Wyker returned Tuesday night from Birmingham where
she spent several days.

Mrs. Ellen Ballas and children returned Wednesday night after a several months absence having spent the summer months in Hot Springs, Ark.,
and other summer resorts in the west
and east.

Dr. and Mrs. J. Y. Hamil left this morning for Boston and New York city where Dr. Hamil will attend clinics and lectures at noted hospitals.

Mrs. Otto Moebes and daughter,
Miss Mildred and son Jack left Thursday evening for Florida where they will join Mr. Moebes.

Mrs. J. S. Daniell has returned to her home in Atlanta, Ga., after a visit to her son, J. R. Daniell and Mrs.
Daniell.

Ashford will be rendered by this efficient choir assisted by other local artists. Mrs. A. R. Kabrich is the director and Mrs. T. M. Dix is organist.

The following specials will be sung:
"Blessed Are the Poor in Spirit," by Messrs. Crane and Garren; "The King of Love," by Mr. Davis and chorus with soprano obligato; "Blessed Are They That Mourn," chorus;
"Father to Thee We Look," Mrs. Kab-rich; "Blessed Are the Meek," Messames Hanson and Speake and chorus; "The Lord is My Light," P. Z.
Dix and chorus; "Blessed Are the merciful," Mrs. A. T. Hanson; "Blessed Are the Pure in Heart," chorus;
"Blessed Are the Peace Makers," Messames Kabrich and Todd, Messrs.
Crane and Davis; "Blessed Are They Which Are Persecuted," chorus; "The Road of the Loving Heart," Messrs.
Crane and Davis; "Rejoice and Be Exceeding Glad," Mr. Green and chorus.

This choir has been rendering a distinct service to the Twin-Cities the past few years by their special program at the beginning of the fall season, Christmas, Easter and other times and the recitals are eagerly looked forward to by the people of the community.

No invitations have been sent out but the public is cordially invited.

Its Quality Shows
In Your Baking

The quality of Valier's Picnic self-rising Flour is not an empty talking point. It is a practical baking help—present in every sack. It is quality that shows in the lightness, the whiteness and the fine flavor of your baking.

For Picnic is milled from only high grade, soft winter wheat, fully matured. It is ground slowly and carefully. The ingredients that make it 'self-rising' are added in the exact proportion to insure best results. Picnic is always the same.

Make sure of having the best hot biscuit you can bake. Whenever you buy self-rising

Tries Kellogg's Bran—restores health after 12 years of intense suffering

Mr. Firth writes that he suffered for 12 years from constipation and his friend for 10 years—a total of 22 years' suffering permanently relieved by Kellogg's Bran, cooked and krumbled.

Gentlemen:

For 12 years I had been troubled with indigestion caused mostly by constipation. Until about a year ago, I would suffer from 4 to 20 weeks at a time.

I happened to see your Krumbled Bran in a store, purchased a package and got almost immediate relief. I am still eating the Krumbled Bran every day.

The most wonderful results obtained with your Krumbled Bran I will now relate. A gentleman who has been taking medicine for about 10 years for constipation could not find anything to give him relief. Three weeks ago I advised him to try Krumbled Bran, as I had gotten from it. The gentleman in question purchased a box, and he told me that for the first time in ten years he is regular without taking medicine.

Yours for success,

William Firth, Jr., 46 Volan St., Merchantville, N. J.

Eaten regularly, Kellogg's Bran is guaranteed to relieve the most chronic case of constipation, or your grocer returns your money. Eat two tablespoonfuls daily—in chronic cases, with every meal. The flavor is delicious. Try it in the recipes on every package. Made in Battle Creek. Sold by all grocers.

OLD VIRGINIA BRUNSWICK STEW

It does not matter how you go by wagon, car, or train; carry Old Virginia Brunswick Stew with you.

At home, on the trail, in the woods at the lake, on the mountains, it is the same safe, delicious food for a good dinner. It saves the housewife from standing over a hot stove all day.

A can is enough for a small family. It is always fresh and sweet and appetizing, in a sealed container, ready to serve. There is a stimulating flavor, a zest, a tantalizing goodness, a surprise, something new about it.

Movie Men of World May Be Invited To General Conference

GENEVA—Declaring that there are at least 50,000 cinema halls in the world and that the moving picture is steadily increasing as an international force for good or evil, Julian Luchaire, Honorary Professor of Grenoble University, France and inspector-general of public education, recently urged the League of Nations committee on Intellectual Cooperation to convene an International Cinematograph congress which would bring together representatives of promoters, producers, authors, artists critics and directors.

Professor Luchaire hailed the motion picture as one of the most important movements in the history of intellectual life in the course of the last 20 years. He said its influence on the populace can only find a parallel in that the theater in the cities of ancient Greece and that of the daily press in modern nation since the nineteenth century. He estimated that, taking the average number of spectators to be 300 in each of the 50,000 world cinema halls and keeping in mind that each picture is usually repeated ten times, a film which goes all over the world, as many do, is seen in a relatively short space of time by 150,000,000 persons.

Undoubtedly said Professor Luchaire the impression made upon this enormous public is superficial compared with the influence of certain books which have taken years or centuries to impress themselves on the human race, certain sacred books, for instance but it is a striking fact that only the Bible and the Koran have an indisputably larger circulation than that of the latest film from Los Angeles. He said that the cinema has been adapted to religious propaganda in various countries and that in the United States it is estimated that about 25,000 churches use the screen as an adjunct to the pulpit. For all these reasons and for the additional one that the cinema has become intrinsically international Professor Luchaire held that it should be included within the scope of the activities of the committee on Intellectual Cooperation.

The future alone will divulge the speaker insisted, whether the cinema is to have high educational value and the elevating and ennobling influence which the theater seems to have had the masses in ancient Greece, or the debasing influence of vulgar musical hall shows or of cheap novels. The

A lovely girl was Dorothy.

Quite so!

And being much outwitted by all her charms,

I wished to kiss her, hold her in my arms—

You know—

I first tried in a taxicab—

Said she:—

Oh, everybody'll see us, I'm afraid; I hardly relish getting on parade—

D'you see?

At her house party next I tried—

Said she:—

Somebody'll surely see us, I'm afraid; The butler might come in, or else the maid—

D'you see?

In the garden I tried once more—

Said she:—

Somebody else might see us, I'm afraid.

You can't tell who might hereabouts have strayed—

D'you see?

And then one night we drove quite far—

And fast!

We found at length a most secluded spot,

And there we stopped—My chance I'd got—

At last!

And was the girlie fearful still?—

Oh, no!

She softly, sweetly whispered in my ear;

Now is the time, you dear, no one is near—

It's go!

She lifted up appealing eyes—

To me—

Said I:—Some one will see us, I'm afraid;

To the Man in the Moon we're quite displayed—

D'you see?

TROUSSEAU TEA

Miss Marie McGlawn's trousseau
tea was an event the social life of the Twin Cities yesterday when about
seventy-five guests called during the afternoon. They were greeted at the door by Mrs. Frank Lide, and were presented to Miss McGlawn and her mother.

Miss Helen Russell then ushered
the guests into the living room where
Mrs. Dyke Echols, and Mrs. Wm. E.
Crawford displayed household linens,
most of them being the hand-work of
the bride; in this room her hats and gowns were also on display. The guests then passed to the library
where lingerie, shoes, hose and neg-
ligees were shown by Mrs. W. R.
Smith and Mrs. Troup. They were
then shown by Miss Annie B. Malone
into the dining room, which was decorated in bridal tones of green and white.

Mrs. A. J. Harris and Mrs. Weak-
ley Cunningham poured tea from a beautifully appointed tea table. Pale
green ribbons were draped from the
chandelier and fastened to the table
with southern smilax. Under the shadow of a silver basket, laden with huge white chrysanthemums, stood a miniature bride and groom.

Tea, sandwiches, cake and mints
were served by Mrs. Leldon Griffin,
of Cullman; Mrs. Earl Kreis, of Montgomery; Mrs. W. M. Callahan, and
Mrs. L. J. Ramage.

Miss McGlawn, the bride-elect, was
gowned in green georgette and gold
lace with corsage of butterfly roses.
The mother of the bride wore black satin. Mrs. Echols wore a black sequin and satin. Miss Russell wore rose metal cloth. Mrs. Echols black
satin with cream lace; Mrs. Crawford,
white flat crepe beaded in silver;
Mrs. W. R. Smith, gray georgette
with cut steel beads; Mrs. Troup,
black cut velvet; Miss Malone, green
and orchid chiffon with cream lace;
Mrs. A. J. Harris, black satin; Mrs.
Weakley Cunningham, white canton
crepe; Mrs. Griffin, powder blue chif-fon; Mrs. Kreis, blue romanian crepe,
with cut steel beads; Mrs. Callahan,
and Mrs. Ramage, black satin.

THURSDAY CLUB

Mrs. Harry Carpenter was hostess
at the first fall meeting of the Thursday Club this week at her home.

Only club members were present
and among these Mrs. C. C. Cox was
the lucky contestant at bridge, the
club game, and she was awarded the
prize.

Lovely refreshments were enjoyed
at the close of the game.

THURSDAY BRIDGE CLUB

The Thursday Bridge Club was delightfully entertained by Mrs. E. S.
Howard on Johnston street on Thursday afternoon. Pretty blooming flowers added to the attractiveness of the home.

Mrs. Lark substituted for an absent member and at the game Mrs. J.
W. Bogges made highest score.

Late in the afternoon a salad course
was served.

CANAL STREET ROOK CLUB

There will be no meeting of the Canal Street Rook Club this week.

Mrs. Raley of Oklahoma will arrive
soon to join Mr. Raley who has accepted a position with the Decatur
Cornice and Roofing Co., and they
will make their home here.

AUXILIARY RALLY DAY

Attractive invitations have been received by members of the Woman's Auxiliary of the First Presbyterian
church for Monday afternoon, October
Sixth. The subject for the afternoon
will be "Towards the Setting Sun"
and pictures will be used in connection
with this.

There has been a cessation of activities during the summer and preparations and plans will be discussed and
adopted at this meeting for the coming years work.

DAUGHTERS OF THE
AMERICAN REVOLUTION

Mrs. Leroy McEntire was a lovely
hostess of Thursday having as her
guests the members of the Stephens
Chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution.

After the business session which
was presided over by the regent, the program was taken up. Two enjoyable
numbers of this were the discussion of
the "Prehistoric Indian" by Miss Molly
Shepard and a delightful talk by Mrs.
John D. Wyker in which she told of some of the places of interest that she
visited the past summer while abroad.

During the social hour, a salad
course was served by the hostess.

Mr. and Mrs. Warren Gardner gave
a bridge party on Thursday evening
at their home on East Walnut street.
This attractive home was made unusually so with the use of bright garden flowers tastefully arranged in the living room.

Miss Vera Smith received the girls
trophy for the highest score and a souvenir was presented Dr. Hamilton, he
having made top score among the men.

A tempting salad course was served
at the conclusion of a number of interesting games to the following: Miss
Maud Smith, Burton Bartee, Miss
Vera Smith, Owen Watson, Miss Ruth
Banks, Dr. Hamilton, Miss Annie Mae
Gardner, Mr. Hembree, Miss Katherine McCormack and William Davis.

Mrs. D. S. Echols will leave Monday
to spend about ten days with Mrs. F.
W. Knight in New York city.

Mrs. Jim Williamson and children
Jack and Jimmy of Hartshorn, Okla.,
are visiting relatives on Prospect Drive.

Mrs. F. Henderson of Natchez Miss.
is the house guest of Dr. and Mrs. A.
T. Grayson.

Word was received at noon today
that Miss Marjory Pointer, who is attending Woman's College at Montgomery would possibly have to be operated on this afternoon for appendicitis. Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Pointer
left immediately on the noon train
train to be at Miss Pointer's bedside.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Robertson and children returned on Thursday night
from Evansville, Ind., where they visited for the past ten days.

Mrs. John D. Wyker returned Tuesday night from Birmingham where
she spent several days.

Mrs. Ellen Ballas and children returned Wednesday night after a several months absence having spent the summer months in Hot Springs, Ark.,
and other summer resorts in the west
and east.

Dr. and Mrs. J. Y. Hamil left this morning for Boston and New York
city where Dr. Hamil will attend
clinics and lectures at noted hospitals.

Mrs. Otto Moebes and daughter,
Miss Mildred and son Jack left Thursday evening for Florida where they
will join Mr. Moebes.

Mrs. J. S. Daniell has returned to her home in Atlanta, Ga., after a visit to her son, J. R. Daniell and Mrs.
Daniell.

Tries Kellogg's Bran—restores health after 12 years of intense suffering

Mr. Firth writes that he suffered for 12 years from constipation and his friend for 10 years—a total of 22 years' suffering permanently relieved by Kellogg's Bran, cooked and krumbled.

Gentlemen:
For 12 years I had been troubled with indigestion caused mostly by constipation. Until about a year ago, I would suffer from 4 to 20 weeks at a time.

I happened to see your Krumbled Bran in a store, purchased a package and got almost immediate relief. I am still eating the Krumbled Bran every day.

The most wonderful results obtained with your Krumbled Bran. I will now relate. A gentleman who has been taking medicine for about 10 years for constipation could not find anything to give him relief. Three weeks ago I advised him to try Krumbled Bran, as I had gotten from it. The gentleman in question purchased a box, and he told me that for the first time in ten years he is regular without taking medicine.

Yours for success,
William Firth, Jr., 55 Volan St., Merchantville, N. J.

Eaten regularly, Kellogg's Bran is guaranteed to relieve the most chronic case of constipation, or your grocer returns your money. Eat two table-spoonfuls daily—in chronic cases, with every meal. The flavor is delicious. Try it in the recipes on every package. Made in Battle Creek. Sold by all grocers.

OLD VIRGINIA BRUNSWICK STEW

It does not matter how you go by wagon, car, or train; carry Old Virginia Brunswick Stew with you.

At home, on the trail, in the woods at the lake, on the mountains, it is the same safe, delicious food for a good dinner. It saves the housewife from standing over a hot stove all day.

A can is enough for a small family. It is always fresh and sweet and appetizing, in a sealed container, ready to serve. There is a stimulating flavor, a zest, a tantalizing goodness, a surprise, something new about it.

Movie Men of World May Be Invited To General Conference

GENEVA—Declaring that there are at least 50,000 cinema halls in the world and that the moving picture is steadily increasing as an international force for good or evil, Julian Luchaire, Honorary Professor of Grenoble University, France and inspector-general of public education, recently urged the League of Nations committee on Intellectual Cooperation to convene an International Cinematograph congress which would bring together representatives of promoters, producers, authors, artists critics and directors.

Professor Luchaire hailed the motion picture as one of the most important movements in the history of intellectual life in the course of the last 20 years. He said its influence on the populace can only find a parallel in that the theater in the cities of ancient Greece and that of the daily press in modern nation since the nineteenth century. He estimated that, taking the average number of spectators to be 300 in each of the 50,000 world cinema halls and keeping in mind that each picture is usually repeated ten times, a film which goes all over the world, as many do, is seen in a relatively short space of time by 150,000,000 persons.

Undoubtedly said Professor Luchaire the impression made upon this enormous public is superficial compared with the influence of certain books which have taken years or centuries to impress themselves on the human race, certain sacred books, for instance but it is a striking fact that only the Bible and the Koran have an indisputably larger circulation than that of the latest film from Los Angeles. He said that the cinema has been adapted to religious propaganda in various countries and that in the United States it is estimated that about 25,000 churches use the screen as an adjunct to the pulpit. For all these reasons and for the additional one that the cinema has become intrinsically international Professor Luchaire held that it should be included within the scope of the activities of the committee on Intellectual Cooperation.

The future alone will divulge the speaker insisted, whether the cinema is to have high educational value and the elevating and ennobling influence which the theater seems to have had the masses in ancient Greece, or the debasing influence of vulgar music-hall shows or of cheap novels. The

A lovely girl was Dorothy.
Quite so!

And being much entanced by all her charms,
I wished to kiss her, hold her in my arms.
You know.

I first tried in a taxi cab—
Said she: "I see us, I'm afraid."
Oh, everybody'll see us, I'm afraid.
I hardly relish getting on parade.
D'you see?

At her house party next I tried—
Said she: "Somebody'll surely see us, I'm afraid."
The butler might come in, or else the maid—
D'you see?

In the garden I tried once more—
Said she: "Somebody else might see us, I'm afraid."
You can't tell who might hereabouts have strayed—
D'you see?

And then one night we drove quite far—
And fast!
We found at length a most secluded spot,
And there we stopped—My chance I'd got—
At last!

And was the girlie fearful still?—
Oh, ho!
She softly, sweetly whispered in my ear;
Now is the time, you dear, no one is near—
Let's go!

She lifted up appealing eyes—
To me—
Said I: "Some one will see us, I'm afraid."
To the Man in the Moon we're quite displayed—
D'you see?

MALARIA LEAVES A HEAVY MARK

Malaria, unfortunately, does not end with the breaking of chills and reducing of fever. Even after the patient is free from actual illness, the marks on his system are plain to see. Vitality is weak, appetite poor, weight fallen off, spirits low. In such conditions Wintersmith's Chill Tonic, a reliable anti-malaria prescription is invaluable.

Wintersmith's Chill Tonic builds up and restores what the malarial fever has taken away. It enriches and purifies the blood, aids the appetite, tones up the system, hastens the return of health and strength.

Taken as you feel chills and fever coming on, Wintersmith's Chill Tonic gives prompt and certain relief; and a long siege of malaria can often be avoided. Its beneficial effects have been proved in thousands of cases, over 50 years of continued use. At your drug store. Popular size, 60c; mammoth size, $1. Clears Complexion

"Oh! how clear and beautiful your complexion is today, my dear!"

THERE is a certain joy—a certain pride—in knowing you are admired, whether it be from father, brother, husband or sweetheart! And back of that joy is the satisfaction of knowing all is well.

Men are fascinated by the charms of beauty. Women gaze with envy, secretly jealous, perhaps, wondering—hoping—praying for that attractiveness which is not theirs. But why the wondering—the hoping—the praying for that craved-for attractiveness—that clear skin—that beauty. A clear skin—is the barometer of one's condition. A healthy skin radiates beauty. Pure, clear blood means a clear skin.

S.S.S. is waiting to help you. It will rid your blood of its impurities and give you that clear complexion. Since 1888 S.S.S. has been riding people of blood impurities, from pimples, from blackheads, from eczema, and from rheumatism, too. Because S.S.S. is made from fresh herbs and barks, it may be taken with perfect safety. Try it yourself. You will not only look better, but you will feel better, too.

S.S.S. is sold at all good drug stores in two sizes. The larger size is more economical.

SYNOPSIS

Sir Oliver Tressilian, renowned for his exploits on the Spanish Main, is betrothed to Rosamund Godelphin, but the marriage is opposed by Rosamund's brother, Peter, and her guardian, Sir John Killgrew. By repeated insults Peter finally provokes Oliver to threaten murder; and when Oliver's young half-brother, Lionel, kills Peter in a quarrel suspicion falls on Oliver. Even Rosamund believes him guilty, and asks him to explain the trail of blood found leading from the body to his doorway. Desiring to protect Lionel, Oliver can do nothing but protest his innocence. But he goes to the justices and asks them to draw up a document attesting to the fact that he bears on his body no mark of recent wound; that therefore the trail of blood, obviously that of the wounded murderer, was not his. This document he takes home, to hold in readiness until needed.

Gradually Lionel recovered his tranquillity as the days passed on. What any case, being now beyond recall, there was no profit in repining. He never knew how fortune aided him, as fortune will sometimes aid a villain. The royal pursuivants arrived some six days later, and Master Baine was the recipient of a court summons to render himself to London, there to account for his breach of trust in having refused to perform his sworn duty. Had Sir Andrew Flack but survived the chill that had carried him off a month ago, Master Justice Baine would have made short work of the accusation lodged against him.

As it was, when he urged the positive knowledge he possessed, and told them how he made the examination to which Sir Oliver had voluntarily submitted, his single word carried no slightest conviction. Not for a moment was it supposed that this was aught but the subterfuge of one who had been lax in his duty and who sought to save himself from the consequences of that laxity. And the fact that he cited as his fellow-peace, from leaden skies and mow-tainous seas into a sunny assurance. It was like a sudden transition from Winter into Spring, and she ran along now, close hauled to the soft easterly breeze, with a gentle list to port.

It had never been Master Leigh's intent to have got so far as this without coming to an understanding with his prisoner. But the wind had been stronger than his intentions, and he had been compelled to run before it and to head to southward until its fury should abate. Thus it fell out that the skipper was forced to wait until they stood along the coast of Portugal—but well out to sea, for the coast of Portugal was none too healthy just then to English seamen—before commanding Sir Oliver to be haled into his presence.

In the cramped quarters of the cabin in the poop of the little vessel sat her captain at a greasy table, over which a lamp was swinging faintly to the gentle heave of the ship. He was smoking a foul pipe, whose fumes hung heavily upon the air of that little chamber, and there was a bottle of Nantes at his elbow.

To him, sitting thus in state, was Sir Oliver introduced—his wrists still pinioned behind him. He was haggard and hollow-eyed, and he carried a week's growth of beard on his chin. Also his garments were still in disorder from the struggle he had made when taken, and from the fact that he had been compelled to lie in them ever since.

Since his height was such that it was impossible for him to stand upright in that low-ceilinged cabin, a stool was thrust forward for him by one of the ruffians of Leigh's crew who had haled him from his confinement beneath the hatchway.

He sat down quite listlessly, and stared vacantly at the skipper. Master Leigh was somewhat discomposed by his odd calm when he had looked for angry outbursts. He dismissed the two seamen who had fetched Sir Oliver, and when they had departed and closed the cabin door he addressed his captive.

"Sir Oliver," said he, stroking his red beard, "ye've been most foully abused."

The sunshine filtered through one of the horn windows and beat full upon Sir Oliver's expressionless face.

"It was not necessary, you know, to bring me hither to tell me so much," he answered.

"Quite so," said Master Leigh. "But I have something more to add. Ye'll be thinking that I ha' done you a disservice. There ye wrong me. Through me you are brought to know true friends from secret witness a gentleman now deceased but served to confirm his judges in this opinion. He was deposed from his office and subjected to a heavy fine, and there the matter ended, for the hue-and-cry that was afoot entirely failed to discover any trace of the missing Sir Oliver.

For Master Lionel a new existence set in from that day. Looked upon as one in danger of suffering for his brother's sins, the countryside determined to help him as far as possible to bear his burden. Great stress was laid upon the fact that after all he was no more than Sir Oliver's half-brother; some there were who would have carried their kindness to the lengths of suggesting that perhaps he was not even that, and that it was but natural that Ralph Tressilian's second wife should have repaid her husband in kind for his outrageous infidelities.

This movement of sympathy was led by Sir John Killgrew, and it spread in so rapid and marked a manner that very soon Master Lionel was almost persuaded that it was no more than he deserved, and he began to sun himself in the favor of a countryside that hitherto had shown little but hostility for men of the Tressilian blood.

Hartselle News

A pretty miscellaneous shower was fettered Miss Grace Sherrill an October bride-to-be at the hospitable home of Mr. and Mrs. William Kimbrough last Monday afternoon. About eighty guests were present, and left many handsome presents which were displayed in the living room. Delightful refreshments were served, and congratulations in advance were showered by admiring friends on this popular young woman.

Cotton has begun to arrive on the local market in earnest and at the present price, is being disposed of as fast as ginned. All gins here are running full capacity and money is becoming plentiful and merchants report lively business.

John Henry Martin, a former Morgan County citizen, though for the past twenty odd years has made his home in Texas, is on an extended visit to his brother, John C. Martin near Falkville. Mr. Martin left this country for the west near a quarter of a century ago, and is agreeably surprised at the rapid advancement made in this county since leaving his native state.

J. G. Kimbrough is adding to the appearance of his already handsome home by the addition of a coat of paint.

Local coal haulers are making their yards with dirt, and from the appearance of the stocks on hand, there will be no shortage of this necessary fuel for the coming winter.

Local sportsmen are counting the days intervening between now and the open season on birds. Birds in this locality are said to be plentiful, and bird dogs are now at a premium here.

Quite a frost for this season was plainly visible last Wednesday morning, though tender vegetables seemed to suffer none on account of it. Especially on the house tops could the frost be seen, and old residents hardly remember when it came as early as this season. A killing frost would do untold damage just now to late corn, of which there is a large acreage, and there is yet much hay to harvest.

Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Weems of Austinville have rented the J. E. Garrison home on Barclay street, and will move in soon. Mr. Weems is a valued attaché of the Poole and Sherrill grocery company.

Much interest is being manifested on the part of local Baptists over the approaching session of the Morgan County Baptist convention which meet Friday and Saturday before the second Sunday in October. The meetings will be held with a Baptist congregation in the far eastern end of the county. Delegates from Hartselle Baptist First church have been elected to attend, and headed by their pastor Rev. C. C. Walker will make the trip in cars.

Now that frost has come, local possum hunters reckon that persimmons will be just right to tempt that grinning denizen of the woodlands and are planning hunting parties. Many hundreds possums are annually caught by local hunters, and many of them really like the dish when garnished with ham potatoes which abound in large quantities here.
